Many Nice Things Said About People at Cairo.

ARE TRULY AMERICANS.

After a Delightful Trip Down Father of Waters the President Addresses Tremendous Concourse at Southern Illinois City.

Cairo, Ill., Oct. 3.—When President Roosevelt stepped on shore at 9 o'clock Thursday morning from the steamboat Mississippi he gave every evidence of having spent a good night. He retired at midnight and there was little disturbance of his slumbers except two or three demonstrations, which, though violent, were brief.

There was a vast throng at the landing to greet the president and party, and great was the cheering. Entering carriages the distinguished visitor was driven to St. Mary's park, where an immense gathering was in waiting. When the chief executive mounted the platform the applause was deafening.

In well chosen words Governor Deneen introduced the president. Mayor Parsons having first introduced the Illinois executive.

Men of Illinois and you, men of Kentucky and Missouri," was the salutation Mr. Roosevelt employed in his opening remarks. He asserted that this is a region where the people are distinctively American in all their thoughts, in all their ways of looking at life; and in its past and its present alike it is typical of our country. The oldest men present can still remember the pioneer days, the days of the white-tailed ox wagon, of the emigrant and of the log cabin in which that emigrant first lived when he settled to his task as a pioneer farmer. They were rough days, days of hard work, and the people who did that work seemed themselves uncouth and forbidding to visitors who could not look below the surface. It is curious and amusing to think that even as genuine a lover of his kind, a man normally so free from national prejudices as Charles Dickens, should have selected the region where we are now standing as the seat of his forlorn "Eden" in Martin Chuzzlewit. The country he so bitterly assailed is now one of the most fertile and productive portions of the one of the most fertile and productive agricultural territories in all the world, and the dwellers in this territory represent a higher average of comfort, intelligence, and sturdy capacity for self-government than the people in any tract of like extent in any other continent. The land tempts with beauty and fertility, and but a score of years after Dickens wrote it, was shown to be a nursery and breeding ground of heroes, of soldiers and statesmen of the highest rank, while the rugged worth of the rank and file of the citizenship rendered possible the deeds of the mighty men who led in council and in battle. This was the region that brought forth mighty Abraham Lincoln, the incarnation of all that is best in democratic life, and from the loins of the same people, living only a little farther south, sprang another of our greatest presidents, Andrew Jackson, "Old Hickory"—a man who made mistakes, like most strong men, but a man of iron will and incorruptible integrity, fearless, upright, devoted to the welfare of his countrymen, bone of our bone and flesh of our flesh, a typical American if ever there was one.

I commend a careful reading of Martin Chuzzlewit to the pessimists of today, to the men who, instead of fighting hard to do away with abuses while at the same time losing no jot of their buoyant helpfulness for the country. I insist that all our people, socially and industrially, in their private lives no less than as politicians, newspaper men, and business men, are at a lower ebb than ever before. If ever any one of you feels a little downcast over the peculiarly gloomy view of the present taken by some well-meaning pessimist of today, you will find it a real comfort to read Martin Chuzzlewit, to see what a well-meaning pessimist of the past thought of our people sixty-five years ago; and then think of the extraordinary achievement, the extraordinary gain, morally no less than materially, of those sixty-five years.

MAN CUT ON NECK.

Baptist Minister Placed Under Bond at Lawton.

Lawton, Okla., Oct. 3.—Rev. J. M. Sutherland, a Baptist minister, living a few miles southeast of Lawton, was arrested by City Marshal Heffley of Lawton and was brought to Lawton under the charge of cutting the neck of W. H. Middleton of that place.

He was bound over to await the action of the grand jury under bond of $500. Middleton has a very serious cut.

Kills Himself Pitching.

Cameron, Tex., Oct. 3.—George Shafter, while riding a horse en route home below Cameron from Rogers, was thrown by the horse into a barbed wire fence and his right arm was broken and his hand severely lacerated. The animal killed himself pitching, and when Mr. Shafter fell into the fence the animal fell dead.

BURNS A BOY TO DEATH.

Because Mother of Lad Refused His Demand For Food the Woman Badly Beaten and Son Tied to a Tree, Oil Saturated and Roasted.

Oquawka, Ill., Oct. 3.—Because he had been refused food an unknown tramp took terrible revenge, beating Mrs. John Hathaway into unconsciousness and then tying her four-year-old son to a tree and burning him to death.

Enraged farmers and citizens of this place are scouring the country for the murderer, threatening to execute him as he did the boy.

Mrs. Hathaway, whose home is two miles from here, lay unconscious for an hour after the assault of the tramp. The latter meanwhile dragged her son into the orchard where he tied the lad to an apple tree, saturated his clothing with oil and set the garments on fire and left. Recovering consciousness, the mother went in search of her son, finding him fearfully burned, but still breathing faintly. The child lingered until 9 o'clock Wednesday night, when death came.

OFF FOR KOBE.

Before Leaving Secretary Taft Was Guest of the Emperor.

Tokio, Oct. 3.—William H. Taft, American secretary of war, officially bade farewell to Japan at 6:15 Wednesday evening the left the brilliantly decorated Shimbashi railroad station for Kobe amid the firing of an artillery salute and a great display of fireworks.

Secretary and Mrs. Taft went to the palace. Entering the audience room accompanied by General Edwards, Mr. Taft was greeted by his majesty, who invited the secretary to accompany him to an adjoining room, where they conversed in private, with the aid of an interpreter, for ten minutes, after which they returned to the audience room.

While the private audience was in progress Mrs. Taft was received by the empress. Both their majesties showed great cordiality in their reception of the American visitors.

While no official statement of what transpired at the private audience was given out, it is understood that the emperor expressed his friendship for America and his admiration of President Roosevelt, and that Mr. Taft assured him that these sentiments were reciprocated by the people of the United States.

After the audience Mr. and Mrs. Taft called on the crown prince, Yeshihito Huronimoya, and upon Prince Fushimi, the emperor's cousin, who visited the United States in 1904, and then returned to the palace. On their arrival there Mr. and Mrs. Taft were ushered into the banquet room where a luncheon was served, the emperor and empress sitting on one side of the table with Mr. and Mrs. Taft opposite them. The luncheon was most elaborate, the banquet room being profusely decorated with American and Japanese flags and flowers.

The favors were of silver exquisitely designed. After the luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Taft bade farewell to their majesties and returned to the Shiba palace, their headquarters.

The foreign minister, Count Hayashi, called on Secretary Taft at 4 o'clock and had a long conference with him.

CLOSE CALLS.

TERRIFIC GALE SWEEPS ALONG THE IRISH AND WELSH COASTS.

London, Oct. 3.—A heavy gale blew over the Irish and Welsh coasts Wednesday, and there were several exciting rescues of the crews of wrecked vessels. The most serious disaster was near Seafield, County Clare, when the French ship Leon XIII, from Queenstown, Sept. 26, at which port she arrived recently from Portland, Ore., went on the rocks.

A report which came in at an early hour Thursday morning describes her as blown into ribbons and says mountainous seas were breaking over the ship. The crew of twenty-five men were huddled in the bow. This is the only part of the vessel where safety from the huge waves could be found. The men spent a terrible day. Most of the time they have clung to the rigging, beaten and numbed by the pitiless seas. There was a big crowd on the beach, but they were powerless to render assistance.

HANGED AND POISONED.

Two Little Children Are Victims of Frightful Fates.

Woodward, Okla., Oct. 3.—The six-year-old daughter of Mrs. Sarah Runkle, living in South Persimmon township, was accidentally hanged and killed while playing. During the funeral her playmate, a daughter of Samuel Hunt, drank carbolic acid by mistake and died immediately.

WATERWAY POLICY.

President Roosevelt Says That It Should Be Liberal.

St. Louis, Oct. 3.—President Roosevelt, in a speech here, declared it the nation's duty to restore the Mississippi river to its proper place as a great artery of commerce, and termed the proposed fourteen-foot channel from the lakes to the gulf a "national task."

He warned against plans which might "entail reckles extravagance or be tainted with jobbery," but urged a liberal waterway policy.

The president's address was not diminished by the fact that he was drenched by a sudden downpour of rain while en route to the Jai Alai building, where his speech was delivered. Thousands greeted his utterances.

A tremendous ovation was accorded the national executive when the steamer Mississippi entered the St. Louis harbor to make the first stop on the voyage from Keokuk to Memphis, where President Roosevelt will attend the convention of the Deep Waterways Association convention.

Alabama is to have an extra session of the legislature. Now listen for a chorus of "Poor Old Alabama!"

The Iowa board of health declares that exposure of the arms causes a fuzz to grow on the skin. Short sleeves are doomed.

A New York couple claims to have lived together sixty-three years without a single quarrel. What a dull, colorless existence!

A large number of New York financiers have been indicted by the grand jury for forgery and perjury in connection with life insurance frauds.

The government cotton report shows the imprint of bear's paws. But wait till the returns from the gins are all in. Only the official count can settle it.

If the president should succeed in nationalizing the schools our children would be taught that their fathers who fought for state rights were criminals.

Well! a use for flies has been found at last. In England they have become a staple chicken feed and sell at 30 cents a pound. Verily, nothing was made in vain.

If, as the president argues, the constitution is so elastic that it can be stretched around anything the executive may take a fancy to do, where is the good of having a constitution?

There is a string tied to the commission of every officer in Los Angeles, and if he fails to make good he loses his job without the ceremony of impeachment. It is named "the recall."

Some physicians doubt that dengue is propagated by mosquitoes because it spreads so rapidly. But there are mosquitoes so active that the champion base ball batter couldn't hit one with a tennis racket.

The hanging yesterday of four murderers on one gallows at Lancaster, Pa., has attracted wide spread attention. Such wholesale executions were common enough a few generations back.

One of our exchanges objects to the name "peanut factory," on the ground that the plant to which the name is given does not manufacture peanuts. Does a cotton factory make cotton?

The Tyler Courier says the mass of the people are indifferent on the subject of good roads, notwithstanding the efforts of the newspapers to arouse them. But let's not be discouraged; perhaps the next generation will reap the harvest of the seeds we are planting.

Theodore Roosevelt is the most determined and dangerous enemy of local self-government that has lived in this country since Alexander Hamilton and John Marshall. Yet there are men calling themselves democrats who seem to see nothing amiss with his policy.

Secretary Taft has heretofore had the reputation of a mild mannered man, but in his Tokio speech he denounced as "infamous" any suggestion of a war with Japan. He has been for several years associated with President Roosevelt, who is noted for strenuous language. "Evil communications corrupt good manners."

John Temple Griggs, the erratic Georgia editor who insisted that it was Bryan's duty to present the name of Theodore Roosevelt to the next democratic national convention, is coming to visit Texas. John H. Kirby and Farmer Bill Shaw ought to meet him at the state line with a brass band.

After a thorough trial of moral suasion the New York schools are going back to Solomon's plan of encouraging orderly conduct on the part of school boys. It's a pity boys won't be good and quit furnishing horrible examples of the truth of the doctrine of original sin.

No authority has yet decided why a girl closes her eyes when she murmurs "yes." —Gonzales Inquirer.

It is because in that ecstatic moment sight, hearing and the other senses surrender their functions to feeling, whose five-fold capacity is concentrated in the lips.

State rights is the corner stone of democracy, the keystone of the democratic arch, the key note in the democratic symphony. Those self-styled democrats who advocate the Rooseveltian centralization policy are either masquerading or they know as little about true democracy as a pig knows of Chesterfieldian etiquette.

A Bell county farmer has sold nine tons of honey of this year's crop as a result of advertising. Commenting on this fact Farm and Ranch says: "The advertising farmer has come to stay. The discriminating public wants the wares of the wide-awake farmer. They do not care to buy of the sloven, and they don't."

In his Keokuk speech President Roosevelt sprang another startling proposition when he declared that "the Federal government should co-operate with the state governments to secure the needed change and improvement in our schools." If the Roosevelt policies are adopted by the country there will be no need of state governments.

Miss Elizabeth White, president of the Dressmakers' Protective Association, says an indecent thing cannot be beautiful. Of course not; but the trouble is to agree upon a standard of decency. In the Orient it is thought indecent in a woman to allow her face to be seen. It would be hard to persuade the Western woman to adopt such a standard of decency.

A friend of Farm and Ranch, who owns a farm in the Trinity bottom below Dallas, claims that the cleaning out of the drifts in the river has been worth more than it cost in lessening the damage by overflows aside from the primary object of making the river navigable. The same result will doubtless follow the contemplated improvement of the Brazos.

MABRY MURDER MYSTERY

It Is Thought Tangible Solution Will Soon Develop.

Dallas, Oct. 3.—A decided sensation was developed in what appears to be a tangible solution of the Mabry murder mystery. For the last few days county officials have been energetically but quietly engaged in the development of evidence leading to the implication of the men responsible for and guilty of this crime which will lead to the confronting of the two guilty parties with the indisputable evidence of the manner in which Mabry came to his death and a corroboration of the present theory. Although nothing of a specific nature can yet be told, it is expected to be shown that at least one of the criminals was conscious of the intentions and plans of the victim which resulted in his subsequent murder at the hands of himself and his accomplice. Although incomplete at this time, it is believed that the case to be made will be practically conclusive, and but few details are lacking from what will prove a most thorough and efficient development of all the circumstances.

About two weeks ago Earl Mabry, seventeen years old, who had just arrived from Jacksonville, started late at night for the cement works in West Dallas. Two men went along, promising to show him the way. He started alone, but, it is alleged, was followed by the two parties. Just across the Texas and Pacific trestle Mabry was felled with a coupling pin, his skull crushed as if paper.

In spite of the terrific impact, death did not come instantly. As he fell, the boy shrieked, "Oh, my God! My God!" and the shriek was heard far away.

Another blow was delivered with the coupling pin and the young fellow groaned and writhed. Of a sudden the body grew rigid. Then followed the utter relaxation which only death knows.

Not satisfied—perhaps satisfied is the better word—the murderers jumped upon the prostrate form, inflicting knife wound after knife wound, and then the throat was slashed.

Each man lent a hand in dragging the bloody, lifeless thing down the railroad embankment and off into the weeds, where, stiff and stark and ghastly, its sightless eyes gazing unblinking at the morning sun, it was found the next day.

The murderers worked hastily. They were anxious to get far away as quickly as possible. The man who had wielded the coupling pin with such terrific effect rifled the pockets of the corpse, getting, it is believed, something more than $50, and without waiting to divide this, they dashed off into the darkness.

But in secreting the body in the weeds one of the knives with which the bloody work had been done, a pair of eyeglasses, two watches and another knife were dropped. The victim's suit case was left near the body. In the back of one of the watches was the picture of a young girl.

About 2 o'clock on the Saturday afternoon of the murder a man met Earl Mabry and a companion near the corner of Elm and Pearl streets. Mabry's companion invited the two to take a drink in a near-by saloon, and they did so. While standing at the bar the companion called the man to one side and told him that Mabry had money, and that he desired to get it. As Mabry took his drink the two conspirators agreed that they would get him drunk and then rob him.

With that intention they took him to a number of saloons. Mabry, it seems, did not drink heavily, and they soon found themselves under the influence of liquor, while the intended victim remained clear-headed. The conspirators therefore concluded that they had better sober up and devise some other plan.

Mabry had told the companion with whom the second man had found him that he intended to visit the cement plant in West Dallas and endeavor to get a job. He was persuaded to wait until night, the companions promising to accompany him.

GUSHER GREAT.

Throws Oil Over One Hundred Feet and Makes Mighty Roar.

Henrietta, Tex., Oct. 3.—Spouting at least 100 feet into the air and giving forth a roar that could be heard for a great distance, the wild gusher brought in Wednesday in the Henrietta oil field, was Wednesday night as far from control as it was when it first broke out. Several futile attempts were made during the day to cap the well, but experts say that it is best to let the enormous force before making further trials, since, according to the opinions expressed, if the well should be capped, the well would blow out the 1,500 feet of casing.

Experienced drillers say that this well is the greatest strike ever made in the southwest. Because the cap rock was only cracked, it is impossible to again place the drills, and the flow of oil and gas continues unchecked in the least.

Wednesday night, in the presence of a few friends, Mr. Frank L. Webb of this city and Miss Cecil Aliene Allen of Somerville were married in the city of Navasota at the home of Rev. J. B. Moody, pastor First Baptist Church, Rev. Moody officiating.

Bryan friends were not apprised of the wedding until Thursday morning.

Miss Allen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Allen of Somerville and has been attending the Texas Woman's College. Monday afternoon she left for Navasota to be present at the Ewing-Hollock wedding which was solemnized in that city Wednesday night.

Wednesday afternoon Mr. Webb went to Navasota and the young people decided to surprise their friends by having the wedding consummated at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb arrived in Bryan on the I. & G. N. yesterday morning and are at home at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. S. Webb.

CARD FROM COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

As most of the schools of the county will open Oct. 7, I shall begin Monday my regular visits to the schools and will put in four days of the week in the country.

Parties desiring to see me at my office will find me there Wednesday and Saturdays.

Teachers who haven't had their certificates recorded should do so at once that I may approve their contracts on file. All teachers are requested to furnish me a copy of their daily program, that I may assist them in systematizing their work.

Respectfully,
T. W. Parker,
County Superintendent.

LEAD INCREASES.

Detroit Twice Winner Wednesday From Washington.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Twice victorious over Washington Wednesday afternoon, coupled with the defeat of the Philadelphians by Cleveland that day, closed with Detroit lacking only a fraction of a point of being undisputed champions of 1907. Already Manager Jennings and his men are hailed as victors.

Their almost unexampled exploit in going into the "enemy's country" and bringing a stubbornly fought battle to a successful issue caused admiration in every quarter, and it is felt here in Washington that the team that will battle for the world's championship this year measures up fully to that which lowered the colors of the National league championship last year.

In virtually winning the American League championship Wednesday the Detroiters fairly outplayed themselves. Manager Jennings selected Killien to pitch the first game, but after three innings he retired in favor of Mullin who finished the game so well that he came back and pitched the second game in even better form. Four Washington twirlers in turn faced Detroit in the opening game, but they all looked alike to the coming champions and each was touched up sharply.

Oberlin was the last of the quartette to try to stop the tide, and he was again sent in for the last half of the doubleheader. He lasted but one inning, the visitors scoring three runs off four hits. Charley Smith, who also had figured in the box earlier in the day, finished the game. He was hit safely thirteen times. Cobb's base running was the feature. He stole four bases in the first game. Schaefer led the winners with the stick, getting eight hits, four in each game. The scores were: Detroit, 9 and 10; Washington, 5 and 2.

Cleveland was victorious over Philadelphia, 4 to 3. New York defeated Chicago, 4 to 3, and St. Louis Boston, 4 to 2.

BORAH ACQUITTED.

Great Demonstration Made by Friends of Senator.

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 3.—United States Senator William E. Borah was acquitted of the charge of conspiracy to defraud the government out of valuable timber lands.

The case was submitted without argument on the part of the defense, and the jury was out just long enough to take one ballot. The verdict was greeted by cheers and applause, which the court officers made no effort to restrain. The demonstration in the court room served only as a beginning. As soon as the news reached the outside bells were rung and the fire department made a spectacular run through the principal streets, stopping eventually at the Idaho hotel, where Senator Borah, surrounded by several hundred of his fellow citizens, was escorted. A brass band appeared, and as the senator reached the hotel stepped "Mall to the Chief."

The street about the hotel was blocked by a cheering throng, where shouts mingled with the strains of the fire engine whistles and the clangs of trolley car bells. Senator Borah thanked his hearers for their demonstration and the confidence they had reposed in him throughout the trial.

UNDER NEW CONTROL.

Harriman and Stillman Retire From the Board of Directors.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—The old Chicago and Alton railroad has passed under a new control by the election of two new directors to succeed Edward H. Harriman and James Stillman of the National City bank of New York, representing the Standard Oil company interests.

Edwin C. Hawley of the Clover Leaf syndicate was chosen in place of Mr. Harriman and Mr. Stillman was succeeded by R. A. Jackson, first vice president and general solicitor of the Rock Island system. Robert Mather, the other retiring member of the board of directors was elected to succeed himself. Mr. Jackson and Mr. Mather represented the Rock Island interests in the Alton and it is said that at the meeting of the directors of the Alton in New York these two may resign and Clover Leaf representatives be elected in the place.

The Hawley-Shonts Clover Leaf syndicate appeared to be in absolute command at the election of directors in Chicago yesterday. There was practically no contest over the election of successors to Mr. Harriman and Mr. Stillman.

EXCITING MEETING.

Mayor Presided With the Assistance of the Police Force.

Birmingham, Oct. 3.—At an exciting meeting of the city council Mayor George B. Ward Wednesday night presided over that body with the assistance of the police department. The president of the council, John L. Parker, who has been in control during the mayor's recent absence in Europe, attempted to preside, but was put down by the chief of police. The meeting was full of turbulence, and the word "tar" was used so freely that numerous arrests had to be made because of the disorders. The stormy session was the culmination of charges of grafting which were publicly made on Monday against two aldermen by Mayor Ward.

SIX HUNDRED CHARGES.

Two Telephone Companies Are to Answer That Mary.

Hot Springs, Oct. 3.—Alleging 600 offenses in violation of the anti-trust laws of the state, District Attorney H. B. Means has entered suits against the Southern Telephone and Telegraph company and the Southwestern Telephone and Telegraph company asking that penalties aggregating $3,000,000 be assessed.

The complaint states that prior to May 1, 1905, the Southwestern corporation was the only one in the local field and that shortly afterwards the Southern was organized for the avowed purpose of competition and that it established a plant here. The state alleges that by means of this pretended competition the new company acquired several thousand new contracts and shortly afterward sold out to the Southwestern. It is claimed that that was a ruse to defeat the law against pools, combines and trusts.

KEPT BUSY.

Secretary Root and Party Recipients of Numerous Courtesies.

City of Mexico, Oct. 3.—Secretary Root and his party continued Wednesday to be the recipients of the lavish hospitality and bounteous attentions which have been showered on them ever since their arrival in the republic. Official and social Mexico is bent on showing their appreciation of the visit of an American cabinet minister, and their friendly regard for Mr. Root personally and the ladies accompanying him that the visitors have scarcely had a moment to themselves since their arrival. A continuous round of entertainments has testified to the high place they have already won in the sympathies of Mexico's highest society, and they expressed themselves as delightfully surprised with the spontaneous reception and the exquisite good taste displayed in every entertainment in their honor.

The formal meeting of Mrs. Diaz and Mrs. Root took place in an informal tea garden by the first lady of Mexico at her home on Calle Cadea on Tuesday afternoon.

CLOTHING FOUND.

Belief Is That Clark Steen's Body Is In Lake.

New Orleans, Oct. 3.—Clark Steen one of the accountants who investigated the $116,000 shortage recently Tax Clerk Letten's books, disappeared under suspicious circumstances. Clothing identified as his was found in an empty skiff in Lake Pontchartrain with a note indicating he had committed suicide. Personal financial affairs are given by Steen's friends as the probable cause for the trouble. Steen was accountant and confidential man of the New Orleans dock board. His accounts are straight.

COLLEGE BURNS.

Miss Cameron Boone, a Teacher, Had a Narrow Escape.

Ardmore, Oct. 3.—The main building of Hargrove college, the Methodist college in this city, was destroyed by fire. Seventy-five young lady pupils and ten lady teachers were rendered homeless, barely escaping. The building, contents and all of the belongings of the occupants were destroyed.

Miss Cameron Boone, teacher of expression and voice, sustained serious injuries by falling down a flight of stairs in endeavoring to escape from the flames.

The loss on building and furniture is $30,000; insurance partial.

BUSINESS BEGINS.

Triennial Convention at Richmond Is Getting Down to Work.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 3.—The actual business sessions of the various divisions and branches of the triennial general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church began Thursday, when all bodies received reports of committees and presidencies officers assigned work to committees. This business is entirely of routine character and attracted little interest in the house of delegates. Archbishop Nuttall of the West Indies appeared before the house by special invitation during the morning session.

BEING INVESTIGATED.

New Orleans, Oct. 3.—The Italian consul here announced that he is investigating charges of cruelty to Italian laborers at Sumrall, Miss. For several days reports of impending race riots involving Italians principally, have emanated from Sumrall. Frank Scaglioni, an Italian, who claims to have been injured during these troubles, has gone to Hattiesburg, Miss., to tell his story to an agent of the Italian government.

VOLUNTARY PETITION FILED.

Pittsburg, Oct. 3.—H. J. McCracken & Co., one of the oldest wholesale produce commission firms here, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. Liabilities are placed at $245,387 and assets at $166,200.
